what Mario and Grisi got, Her private car, incidently, cost $60-000, and contained a sliver bath, and gold keys to the doors— to say nothing of a $2,000 piano. Patti only gave to the manager her voice and her cos tumes. Her drawing capacity justified this. "Lucia," as an example, was soing to an average of $14,000. "Traviata" drew more, since she sang more notes; it was a frequent occurrence among the poorer music lovers to buy club ticket and each take turns at hearing her for twenty minutes; if one overstayed his turn he paid for the entire ticket. Some mathematicians computed, by dividing number of notes sung by sum paid, that in "Semiramide" Patri received 42% cents for each note; this was found to be 7 1-10 cents a note more than Rossini got for writing the whole opera-From the Bookman.
